To Dr. A. Leroy Strand, our first alumnus President, we dedicate this book.

He is a truly Montana product, having graduated from Helena High School in 1913, and from Montana State College in 1917. Aspirations for a higher education led him to take his Master's degree in Entomology from Minnesota in 1925, and his Doctor's degree three years later.

He then returned to his alma mater where he became head of the entomology department.

In the fall of 1937 he accepted the presidency of Montana State College at the urgent requests of the Board of Education.

He has an uncomfortably penetrating eye, a genial, contagious smile, and a homely naturalness.

We prophesy a successful future to alumnus President Strand, and herewith add our bit to his enthusiastic support.

In 1916 "Skoop" Strand was one of the proud Les Bouffons.

His Big Apple of the day was undoubtedly one of the rise-and-shinest on the hill.

Of all the crazy fun originated in that mad group, his was inevitably the craziest.

Life could be serious, however, for a senior must graduate.

There was purposeful ambition in "Skoop" Strand, and it is well portrayed in this, his Senior picture.

His well-guided, tolerant effort has attained for him the heavy responsibility of the presidency of Montana State.

SET 2

A long shot of beautiful Montana State College. This, the backdrop for the activities portrayed in our program, symbolizes the unfinished, sprawling country which is the locale for our production. Here in this peaceful and widespread campus is found capacity for development and growth.

The harried supervision of our scurrying lot emanates from this venerable and creaking building, Main Hall, held dear in the hearts of all ex-apprentices in the school of learning.

Morrill Hall, familiarly called the Ag Building is center of farm-research and knowledge. Goodfellowship and interested study are found here.

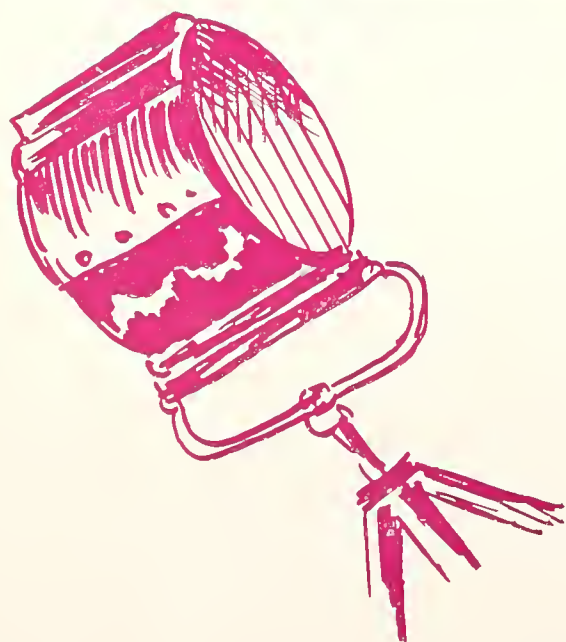

The Gymnasium, aglow with lights on a wintry night, is one of the loveliest sights of our beautiful campus. It's the home of the Bobcats, and the scene of some of their most inspiring victories.

The Chemistry Building is the unfinished scene of some of the most diligent activity of our busy hill.

From it go men well prepared for a life of research and quest.

The friendly scurry from one building to another, caught in double quick motion. The same sidewalks at the identical hour on the alternate days of the week. Droning voices, rustling paper, scratching pens, malodorous breezes.

The expectant hush of sunset and the sleepy twittering of birds bring relaxation and peace to people through with classes for the day. Color and coolness soften the intensity of full, busy hours. Plans for the morrow, regrets for today.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

For the first time in many years the Montana Board of Education assembled for something other than business and found time to pose for a group picture. This picture was taken when the members came to Bozeman for the inauguration of President A. L. Strand.

The Montana State Board of Education has the heavy responsibility of governing the six units of the Greater University of Montana, of which our college is a major division. Since the abolition of the chancellorship, Dr. H. H. Swain of Helena, in his position as Executive-Secretary, coordinates the several branches of the University.

Active administration of the policies outlined by the Board of Education is carried out by the presidents of the several units. Their concern is the mass of detail which attends the daily management of their particular division.

SIMMONS McMULLEN DAVIS THOMPSON STRAND

PRESIDENT A. LEROY STRAND

This is the first bit of copy I have supplied the Montanan for twenty-two years. Since that previous occasion the number of students at Montana State College has increased more than three times, and I am sure the Montanan has improved in even a greater ratio. This record of faces, fun and fame for another college year is one of the few books you will buy sure to increase in intrinsic value as time goes on. I congratulate the editor and his staff for their splendid work.

I should like to take this occasion to express my thanks and appreciation to the entire student body for their indulgence, their many kindnesses, excellent spirit and cooperation during my first year as president.

PRESIDENT.

DEAN J. M. HAMILTON

Dean James M. Hamilton is the students' severest critic, and their most helpful friend. His interest in each individual of the college, his humor and advice, have won for him the esteem and affection of every student. He saw the institution born and has helped it grow to its present complexity, yet he never forgets that the young people enrolled in the school, and their interests, are most important factors in the college developments.

Dean Ethelyn C. Harrison possesses a tolerant interest in all phases of student life, which has won for her the affectionate support of every student. She is constantly working to obtain greater cultural opportunities for the college, and to increase the understanding between the students and the faculty. If an officer in a student organization needs advice or a new and different idea, Dean Harrison can always help in exactly the right way.

Service Department

Although not directly connected with the academic work of the College, the Service Department plays an important role in the smooth operation of the various departments. This group includes the Student Health Department, the College Library, the Office of the Registrar, and the College Treasury.

exactly how much money is paid into the college coffers, although a few fond parents are getting suspicious. And every quarter the entire student body is astounded at the variety of grades issued by Mr. McCall, the registrar.

In fact, the Service Department might be called the Department of Surprises.

Critics estimate that if the general public knew how many arms were vaccinated and throats were swabbed by Miss Barnes and her staff, it would certainly be surprised. The annual checkup shows that a surprising number of books are checked out and in by Mrs. Payson and her assistants at the library. Only Mr. Cameron, the treasurer, knows

DEAN CLYDE MCKEE

Division of Agriculture

The Division of Agriculture is proud of its position as the oldest division of the College, and is proud of the excellent reputation it enjoys throughout the entire United States. For many years the highest standards of agricultural education have been maintained. The consistent success of the Ag graduates is evidence of the progressive work done by this school.

Dean Clyde McKee heads a most capable faculty of Ag instructors. The Division of Agriculture offers courses in General Ag, Agricultural Economics, Agronomy, Animal Husbandry, Dairy Industry and Horticulture.

milking cows to marketing the grain. About a third of our students call the Ag building home, and there they may be found, amid the milk cans and wheat samples, learning the academic approach to the business of baby beef and bumper crops.

The average citizen, and even a great many farmers, will tell you that there isn't much science to farming. The boys of the "Cow College," however, believe firmly in the application of scientific principles to any department of agricultural activity, from

DEAN WM. M. COBLEIGH

The Division of Engineering is comprised of the Electrical, Civil, Chemical, Industrial, Architectural, and Mechanical departments. The work offered in these departments is most thorough and authoritative. Engineering graduates from this school compete very successfully with men of other schools in every branch of the engineering profession. Dean William Cobleigh has in his division a staff of able engineers, many of whom have obtained national recognition in their fields.

In the death of Professor Joseph A. Thaler in March, 1938, Montana State lost one of its most learned and influential men. He was vitally interested in the progress of his students and his department, and was admired and loved by all on the campus who knew and worked with him.

(DECEASED)

The Civil Engineers are the extroverts of the engineering school. On sunny days they parade about the campus with their rods and transits before crowds of admiring coeds. The Chemical Engineers may be distinguished by the faint chemistry odor that accompanies them. Other engineers have only their slide rules to distinguish them from the ordinary college men. Engineering is a highly specialized profession, and its successful students must stick pretty well to business. They do, however, find time to publish THE MONTANA ENGINEER, a first class professional journal, which is further enhancing the already somewhat enhanced reputation of the engineering school.

Division of Household and Industrial Arts

The division of Household and Industrial Arts combines the principles of homemaking with the more commercial subjects of Applied Art and Secretarial Studies. This division has been very ably handled this year by Vice-Dean Jessie F. Connell during the absence of Dean Gladys Branegan, who is on sabbatical leave. Home Economics was the first course offered for women at Montana State College and continues to attract a majority of the women students. Miss Bertha Clow has been in charge of the Home Economics course this year. Miss Connell is the head of the Secretarial Studies and presents the latest trends in modern office practice. Mrs. Olga Ross Hannon, as Dean of Applied Art, very successfully manages one of the most interesting and cultural courses on the hill.

where the Secretarials learn to "take it" from the dictaphone. And here may be seen the Art students, speaking their souls in surrealism. During the last few years a number of men have enrolled in this division, which may or may not prove something.

Although the boys considerably outnumber the girls, Montana State College is, nevertheless, definitely coeducational. All the credit goes to the Division of Household and Industrial Arts. Here's where the girls discover that gastronomical route to the male heart. Here's

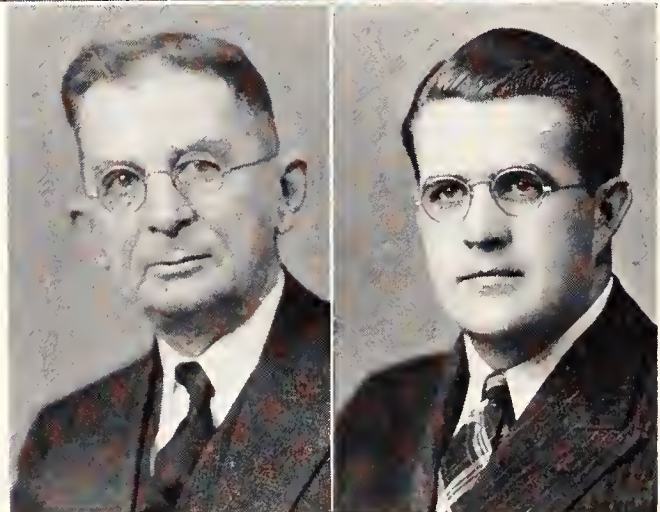

DEAN D. B. SWINGLE

Division of Science

The Division of Science is made up of a wide variety of courses. Applied Science, Botany and Bacteriology, Chemistry, Entomology, Industrial Chemistry, Physical Education, and Zoology, are the departments which come under the administration of Dean D. B. Swingle who heads this division. Complete work is offered in the courses in chemistry. Many graduates in the Botany and Bacteriology course and also in the Zoology course are finding their place in the profession. Graduates of the Physical Education and Applied Science courses fill many teaching positions as teachers in high schools throughout the state. Much worthwhile research work is carried on in this division, and the instruction in pure science which it offers makes it an extremely important part of the college.

These boys are disciples of that creed known as "The Scientific Method." These are the abstract thinkers. Long mornings they spend, spying through powerful microscopes at the amoeba in his native habitat. Long afternoons they spend, peering through powerful odors at test tubes in the Chem lab. Long evenings they spend, sorting the bugs and flowers which their girl friends collected. The black sheep in the science division are the students in physical education. Their labs are held on the football field and in the gym, when they learn the scientific approach to the cross-body block and the left-handed dribble. Most everything is figured out to a science, nowadays.

The Service Course Department is designed to supplement the other major divisions, and offers, through its various departments, that cultural background that is so essential to a well-rounded education. This department includes English, History, Music, and Education. Besides these service courses there is also the General Engineering department which is headed by Professor Challender and is under the Engineering Division. Also the Agricultural Division has the service courses of: Irrigation Department headed by O. W. Monson, the Agricultural Engineering Department directed by H. E. Murdock, and the Veterinary Department headed by Dr. Welch.

Branches of the school are to be found in every part of the campus. The play-production lab grinds out scenery and drama, while the music department makes the breezes sing and the welkin ring. The history is retold and the economy is instructed, and the engineers meet a lot of girls.

Up in the musty third story of old Montana Hall, the headquarters of the General Service Courses may be found. Here is where the practical but inarticulate engineers learn to voice their thoughts. Here is where the articulate but inelegant Ags get their background steeped in culture. This is the home of the essay and the hospital for the split infinitives.

JOHN C. TAYLOR

Extension Department

Situated in a state that is definitely agricultural, Montana State College, through its extension department, gives advice and assistance to a great number of farmers in the State. The Experiment Station works hand in hand with the Extension Department. We wish to pay tribute to F. B. Linfield who retired in September, 1937, after 35 years of service to the college, all but two of which he spent as Director to the Experiment Station. He is succeeded by Dean Clyde McKee. John C. Taylor is head of the Extension Department.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

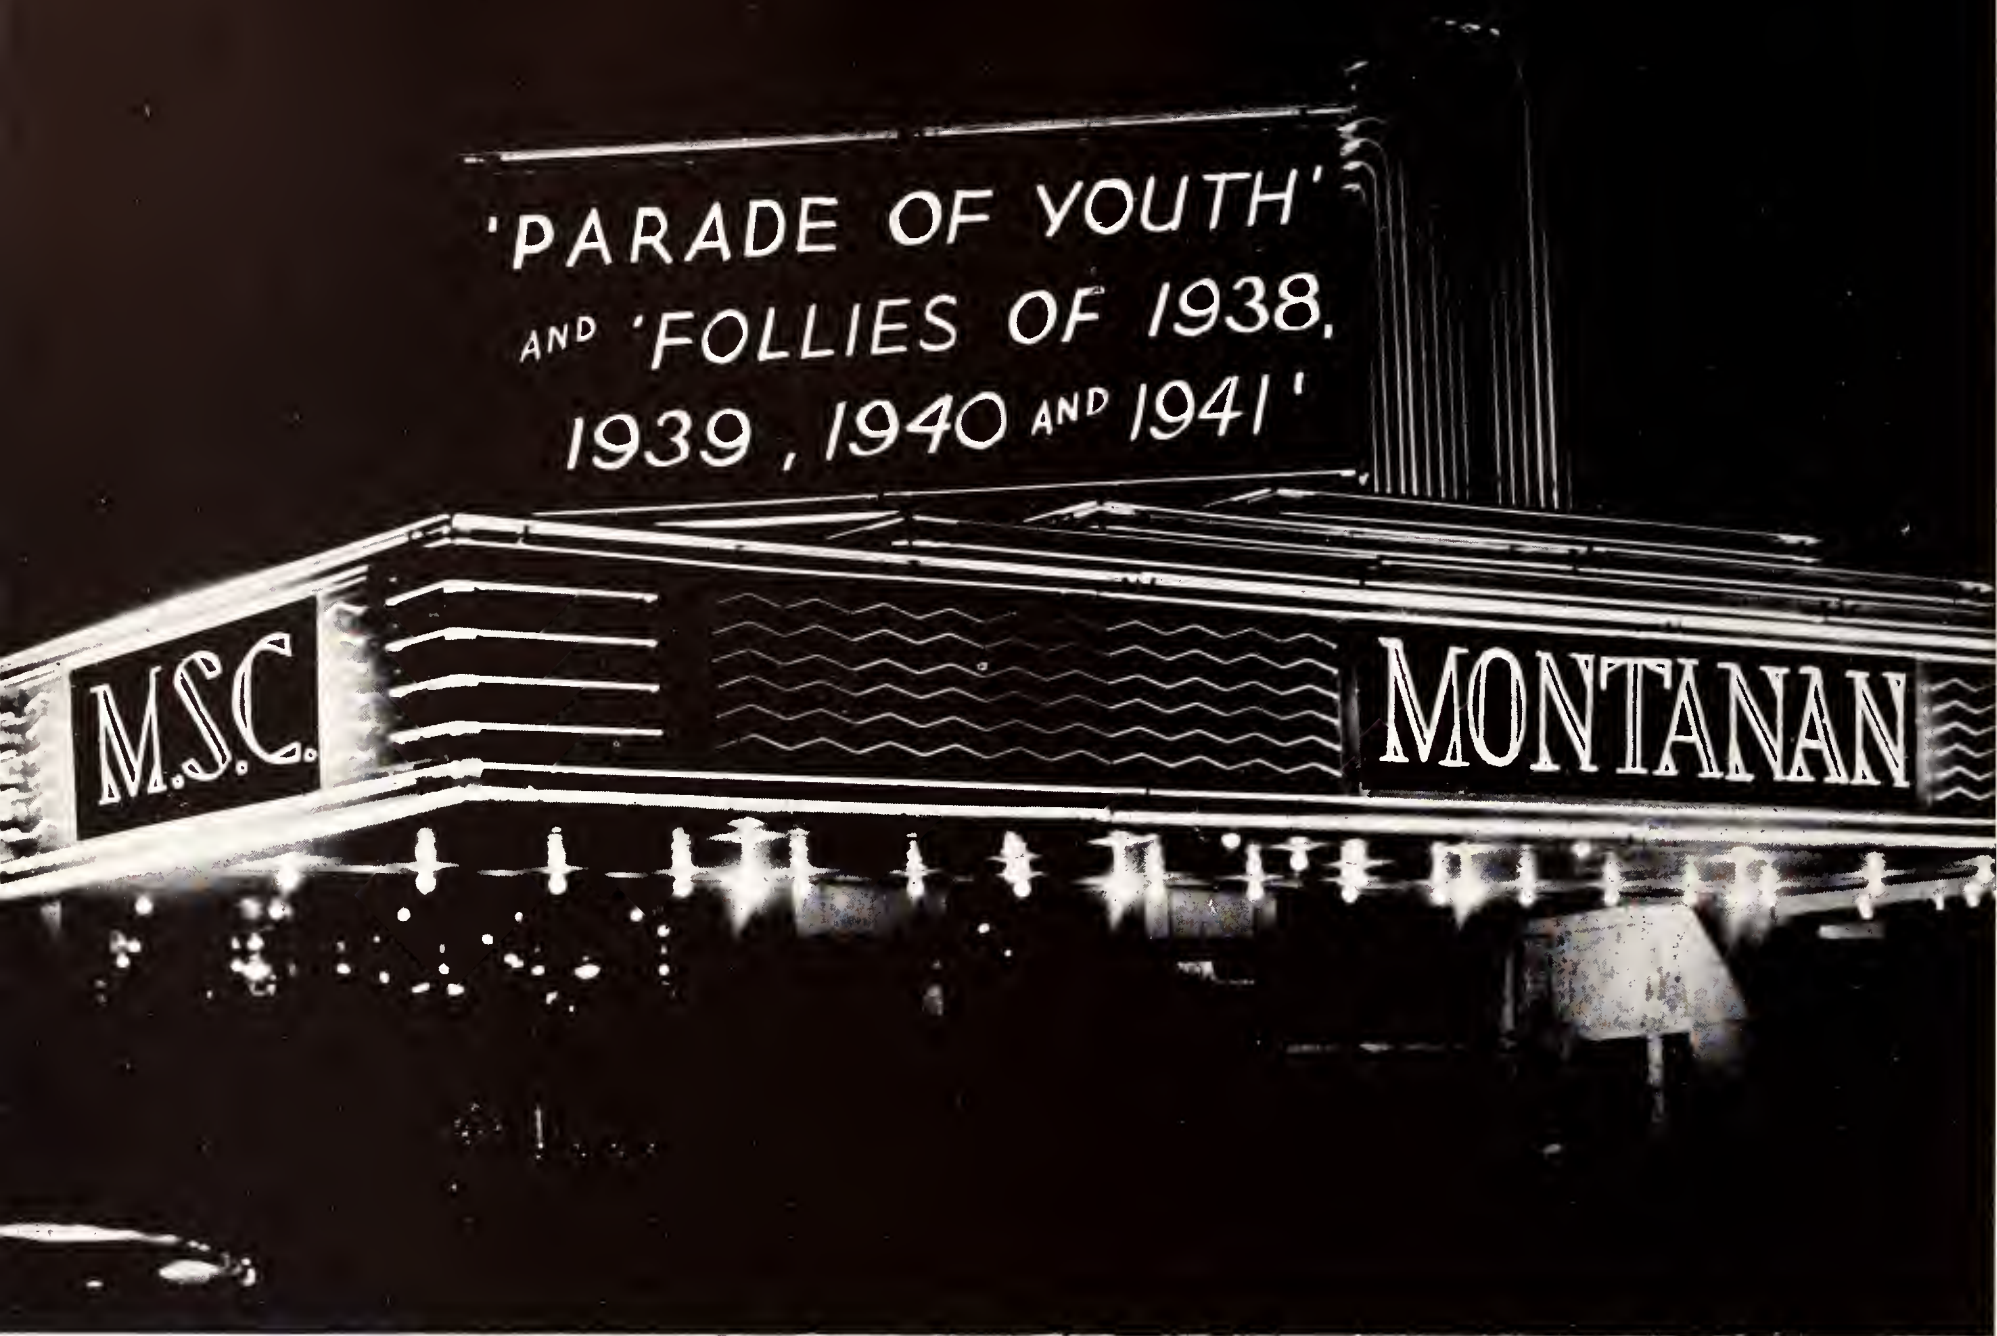

ED HOWARD

A vital part of any college organization is its alumni association. Groups of organized alumni scattered throughout the state can do much to further the college program. Such an organization at Montana State College, under the guidance of Ed Howard, Secretary of the Alumni Association, has active groups in Great Falls, Helena and Billings. It is expected that a number of other cities will soon have alumni clubs.

In addition to his alumni work, Ed keeps the accounts for all the student organizations. Having had a great deal of experience with these organizations, Ed is a valuable friend to all student activity.

SSIES

CLASS OF 1941 AND 1940

FRESHMAN CLASS PRESIDENT

. . . Our collegiate play is divided into four acts, each to be approached from a different level—so the actors think:

The Freshman is naive, and young enough to be afraid to admit his youth; he expects a thrill but hates to confess when he finds one. He—and she—eagerly turns out for the annual fall cleaning of the M, and he overruns the Sophomores, usually, in the fall games which determine how long green caps must be worn. This is the busiest, and by far the happiest, of the four acts, for there is all the joy of participation without the worry of responsibility.

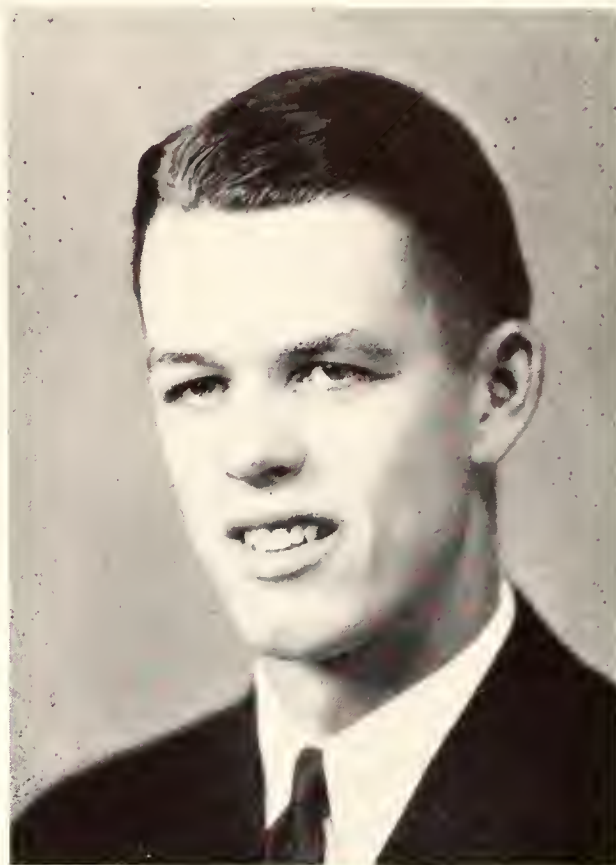

. . . The Sophomore is the magnificent man of the campus—He's had a whole year at college! His big accomplishment is bullying the Freshman, pitying him for his ignorance. In fact this might be what is called the "Children's Hour" of college. Not all, however, is self-admiration, as from the Sophomore class come the service organizations, Fangs and Spurs.

CLASS OF 1939 AND 1938

. . . The Junior is the lost man of the play. He is in the in-between stage where he doesn't quite know what to do with himself. He's too smart now to feel he knows everything, but he doesn't know how to find out what he doesn't know. He is bewildered by the seeming superiority of the Senior, tolerantly helpful toward the Freshman and Sophomore. Along about spring he decides maybe he could do something after all and sponsors the Junior Prom in honor of his Senior brethren.

AL SCHENCK
SENIOR CLASS PRESIDENT

. . . The Senior is just a tired old man, worn with the weight of responsibility incident to running the extra-curricular college and going to school at the same time. From this group are usually chosen the responsible heads for the activities. He enjoys a feeling of accomplishment, but at the same time one of questioning doubt—what's to become of him, now that it's all over? In back of him are days of fun and work; ahead . . . ?

BOARD OF PUBLICATIONS

MACMILLAN NEIL O'ROURKE TRUE NELSON WHITE BALLAS

All the journalistic efforts of the student body are governed by the Board of Publications. Matters of policy concerning the Exponent and Montanan are decided by the board. This year the editor of the newest campus publication, the Montana Engineer, was made a member. The board directs college publicity and determines the eligible candidates for the various editorships. The commissioner of publications is chairman of the board and voices the board's opinion on the Student Senate.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

DICK NELSON
ASSOCIATED STUDENT PRESIDENT

Student government is a most important phase of modern college life. The students of Montana State College each year elect from their number representatives to the Student Senate whose duty it is to voice the undergraduate opinion and to regulate student activity. This year, under the leadership of Dick Nelson, the Senate has accomplished much worthwhile business. Active direction of the several student projects, such as "M" day, the Associated Students' Store, the Community Concert series, and matters of student body finance are regular duties of the Senate.

During the past year Bozeman has been host to a series of Community Concerts. World-renowned artists have performed for the students and members of the Community Concert Club. The Associated Students cooperated with the Club in making possible, for the first time, performances of this excellent character in Bozeman. Under the joint sponsorship, recitals were given by Albert Spaulding, violinist; Igor Gorin, baritone; Margaret Dilling, harpist; Marcel Hubert, cellist, and the New English Singers.

Students were admitted to these concerts on their activity tickets. The series was most enthusiastically received, and everyone looks forward to a similar arrangement for next year.

MUSIC

The General Music Department has been enlarged a number of times in the past few years until it has become one of the major departments of the school. Under the direction of Bert Hansen, the department conducts the affairs of the orchestra, band, chorus and the various individual instructions. Besides providing musical entrees for assemblies and occasions such as Commencement Week, the orchestra functions at plays and the spring musical. The chorus gives several recitals throughout the year, one in cooperation with the orchestra. The Bobcat Band is famous over the state, for each spring it tours a different section of the country, as well as playing at all college games, celebrations, and similar student functions.

The Music Department is fortunate this year in having the services of a new member, Zada Sales Dickson, who once attended school here. She is well-known as pianist and musician.

In addition to conducting the annual series of concerts, and helping with all-school gatherings, the music faculty trains soloists in voice and various musical instruments, and presents them in recitals at different times during the year.

ORCHESTRA

Each season finds the College orchestra taking a greater part in college activity. Thru the efforts of the students and the able direction of Ben Goodsell the standards of artistic excellence are constantly improving. This year the orchestra presented a formal recital, performed Handel's "Messiah" in conjunction with the chorus, and has willingly cooperated with the entertainment committee in furnishing incidental music for dramatic productions, assemblies, and other college functions.

BOBCAT BAND

One of the finest and best-known bands in the Northwest is our Bobcat Band. Smartly clad in blue and gold uniforms, the band officiates at all athletic events of the college, has several concerts, and goes on a tour during spring vacation over some part of the state. During the tour this year as many as three concerts were given in one day, in addition to the rehearsals and traveling required to get from place to place. Many of the concerts are given with the various high school bands to encourage them and to increase the friendly feeling of communities toward M. S. C. and its famous band. Already the band and its leader, Lou Howard, are looking forward to next year and another state-wide tour.

BERT HANSEN

DRAMA

Dramatic productions at Montana State College are under the supervision of Bert Hansen. The work of this department was well up to the excellent standard of past college productions.

Mr. Hansen has a full and varied background to help him in his work. He has had graduate study at the Yale University School of Theatre Play Writing, has taught at the University of Washington in the Dramatic Department, and has taught in China.

In addition to the major quarterly plays, one-act plays and skits are worked up under Mr. Hansen's direction to be presented on demand at various entertainments.

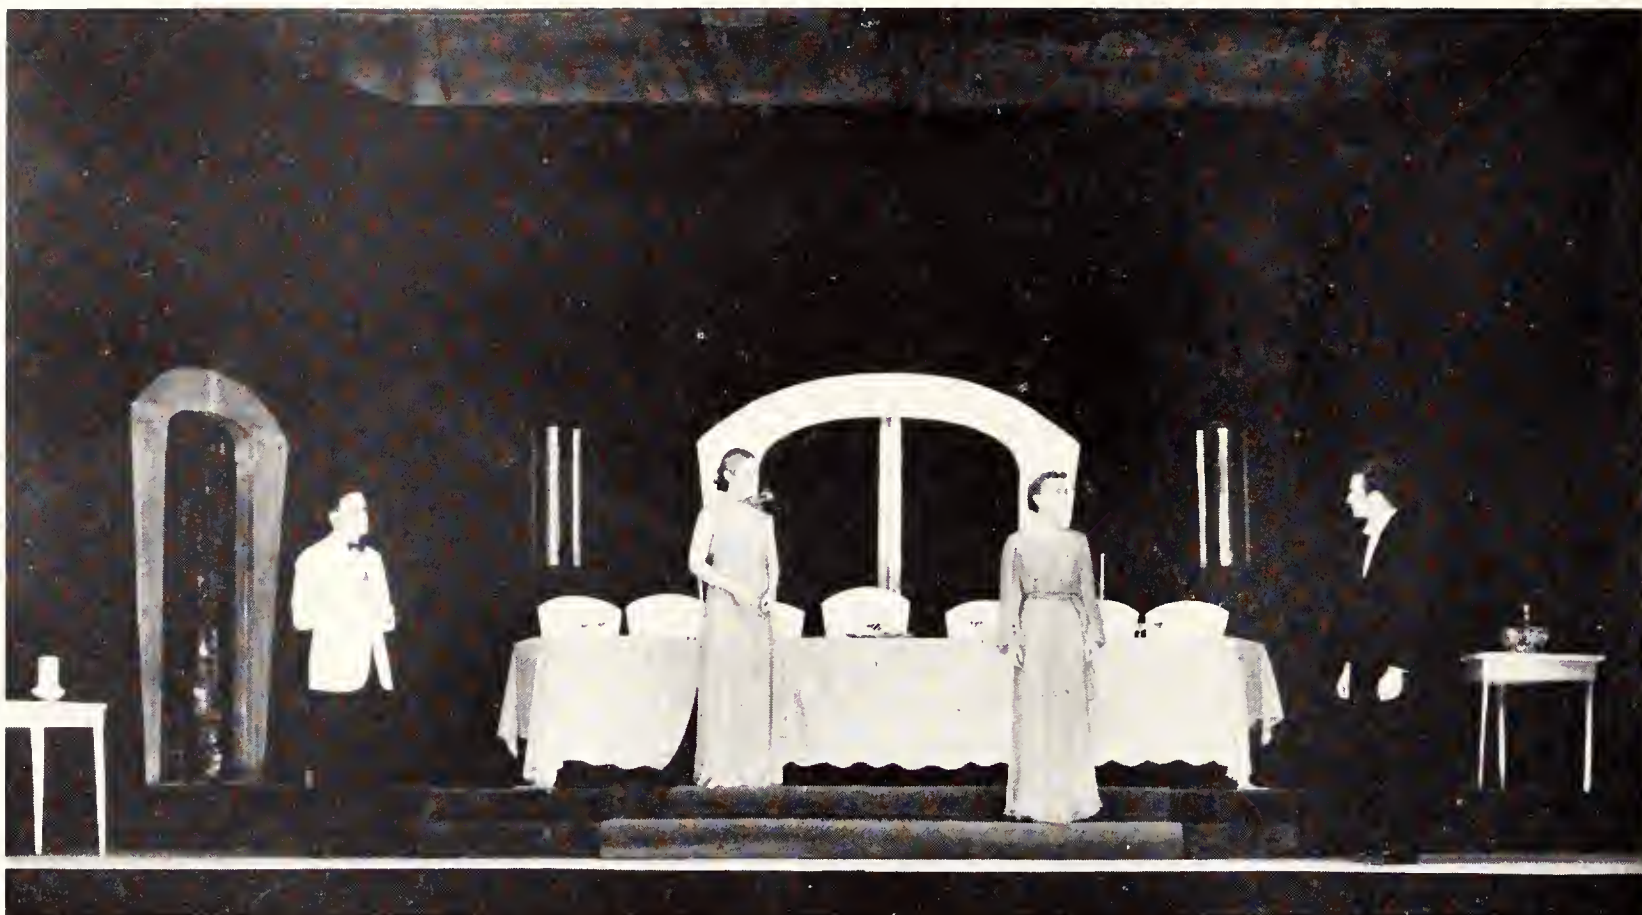

Mr. Paul Grieder has been in charge of the technical production of Montana State's plays for the past few years. It is because of his untiring patience and ingenuity that the settings for the plays have been so appropriate and so carefully worked out.

Mr. Grieder studied at the University of Iowa, and has taught there, in Ohio, and in China. Since his arrival at Montana State College he has earned an ever more important place in the Dramatic Department.

The Desert Song, by Sigmund Romberg, was one of the most successful musical shows ever given by Montana State College. In fact the student body went around humming "One Alone" and the "Riff Song" for days afterward.

Each year for a few days in the spring the college is host to high school students from towns throughout the state. This unique "open house" is designed to acquaint high school students, who are promising college materials, with the opportunities at Montana State College. The all-campus open house shows visitors the normal operation of the school. There are dances, luncheons, military parades, banquets, and demonstrations. The spring musical production, "The Desert Song," was presented for the visitors.

Thanks to the unceasing effort of Mr. Dye in his first year as general chairman, and the good work of the student general chairmen, Wayne Tretsven and Betty Ross, this year's High School Week was in every way successful.

HIGH SCHOOL WEEK BANQUET 1937

Early Thursday morning a pit is dug, banked with fire, and all preparations are made for a real barbeque dinner. Over in back of Hamilton Hall boilers full of potatoes boil atop bricks and fires. At six o'clock that night the high school visitors crowd into the gym and sit down to some excellent food which is served to the entire assemblage in approximately 20 minutes.

This year the visitors were well entertained by a new college vodvil. The vodvil was written and directed by Dick Nelson and was further enlivened by a 13-piece band directed by Harlan Bixby. The entire high school program was a huge success and the visiting people were well entertained.

MOTHERS WEEK END

MRS. SEAMANS

Mrs. Seamans has a double claim to the honor of representing the parents on Mothers' Day—a son and a daughter, both of whom are Seniors this year. Mrs. Seamans, having graduated from the Home Economics Department, is an alumna of Montana State College. She is a member of Phi Upsilon Omicron and was active in many other campus affairs. Mrs. Seamans was a charming and gracious representative for the mothers of the students of Montana State College.

An outdoor demonstration at Gatton Field inaugurated the fourth annual Mothers' Day Celebration. In the evening all the mothers, daughters, sons, and fathers gathered for the Mothers' Day Banquet in the gymnasium. The next day, Sunday, was devoted to entertainment for the mothers and fathers by the organized groups. For many this celebration is the most pleasant function of the spring quarter, for the College is proud to be host to the parents of its students.

HANSEN

Montana State College opened its debate season by participating in the Rocky Mountain Forensic Conference, which was held at Provo, Utah, this year. Later in the year two men went to North Dakota for a series of intercollegiate debates. Montana State entered teams in the state debate meet which was held in Helena the latter part of March. The season was concluded in April when four men journeyed to the national Pi Kappa Delta Convention at Topeka, Kansas. A very gratifying interest was shown in debate work this year and Coaches Slagsvold and Hansen predict a strong debate group for next year.

Each year a national debate tournament is sponsored by Pi Kappa Delta, one of the two largest debate fraternities in the United States. This year the local chapter of Pi Kappa Delta was reinstated after being inactive for several years. To be eligible for membership one must have taken part in two intercollegiate debates and have general interest in forensics. Such an organization furnishes a stimulus to stronger debate work and also builds an opportunity to take part in a national contest, in competition with schools in all parts of the United States.

As yet, no one has contrived a definite formula whereby it is possible to predict success or failure for graduating seniors. Too many variable factors begin to operate the minute the diplomas are awarded. However, it is logical to conclude that an active college career to indicate a possibility of success in later life.

Although good grades are the first measure of college success, there are many other things which contribute to it. Extra-curricular activities of every kind are an extremely important part of college. This section of the 1938 Montanan is dedicated to a number of people, who, because of their likeable personalities, numerous activities, and good grades, have enjoyed truly successful college careers.

A representative faculty group has selected these ten as the most outstanding members of the graduating class, and the Montanan offers this tribute to their efforts.

The arduous training period for those who seek positions on agricultural judging teams is amply compensated for by the trips that are made and the honor of representing Montana in intercollegiate competition.

The dairy products, agronomy, livestock and dairy cattle judging teams are sent to the Pacific International Livestock Exposition at Portland each fall.

The stock judging team makes its start at Ogden in January. If competition is not too keen for positions the same team competes at Portland and by doing a share of their own financing are able to go to Chicago in December.

Long hours of practice, intensive training, concentration climaxed by the finest kind of self-expression tell but part of the details of this fascinating work, for the men pay part of their own expenses and finance their awards for intercollegiate competition within their own Ag club.

If the annual is a good one, a large measure of the credit belongs to this member of the illustrious of the Smith family. Don Smith, whose father deals in automobiles, has furnished a great many fine snaps for this book. All he asked in return was that a picture of one of his father's cars be printed. Here it is. Take a bow, Don. This is your page.

FOOTBALL COACH

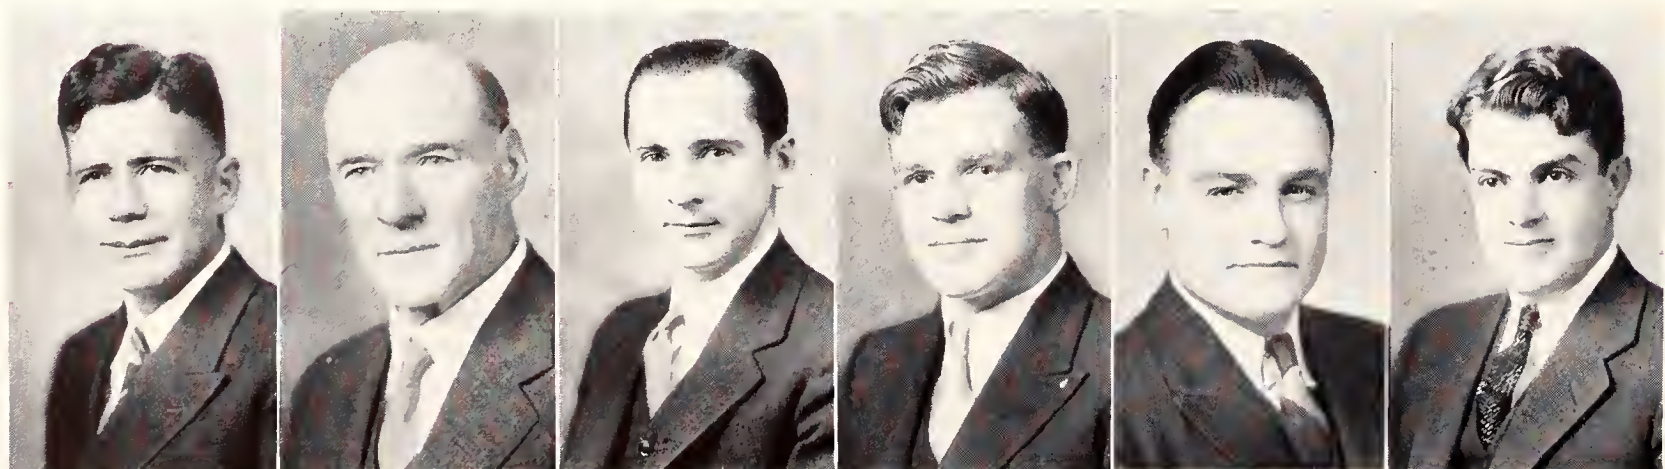

SCHUBERT DYCHE
ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

Early in March of 1938, Head Football Coach Jack Croft announced his resignation at Montana State College to accept the position of Dean of Men at his Alma Mater, Utah State College. Montana State lost a true friend, a dynamic leader, and a great guy when Coach Croft left our campus in favor of a better position at Utah State. We all extend our most sincere wishes for his good luck and a pleasant stay at Utah.

Shubert Dyche will take over the reins of the football team again after a two-year absence and we all feel that the coaching will be well taken care of for another season.

The athletic council is the governing body of the athletic department. It forms all policies and supervises all athletic action at Montana State College. Chairman Dean Swingle, Director of Athletics Dyche, and Treasurer Renne represent the faculty; Frank Donaldson, and Graduate Manager Dolan the Alumni, and the Student body is represented by the Commissioner of Athletics, Bill Stebbins. The Coaching Staff is also represented by Coach Dyche.

About the 18th of September of 1937, some forty sun-tanned members of Montana State's football squad returned to the camp arranged by Coach Croft for a two-week period of intense training.

These men put forth all they had and made a creditable showing against teams of their own caliber, but were no match for the larger schools. Due to the lack of able substitutes the Cats were considerably handicapped, and when the regulars were forced to leave the game, Coach Croft was without the proper replacements.

With a record of three victories, one tie, and four losses, the boys proved their ability in all kinds of competition. In all the games lost the Bobcats played their opponents on an even basis for the first half and then the tiring grind would tell and the scores would begin to widen.

To these men who worked those long and tiring hours, and returned to practice night after night with the same unquenchable fighting spirit, we give our most sincere thanks.

UTAH UNIVERSITY GAME

MONTANA 7; UTAH UNIVERSITY 19

Montana State's Bobcats broke the scoreless jinx with Utah in their first major game of the season. Although they put on one of the best homecoming games in nearly a decade, they lacked the final punch to beat the powerful Utes. The heavier and more experienced line of the Utes punched big holes in the defense of the Bobcats, and let their runners score long gains, which ultimately spelled victory for the mighty Redskins.

The Utes first drew blood with a short pass from Cooper to Balkin after a long march down the field. Their next score came in the second quarter when Schleckman charged in on Cosner who was attempting to pass from his own end zone and recovered Cosner's fumble for the touchdown.

In the third quarter Cosner tossed a long pass to Holloway, and then made it first down on the Ute's 22, with a straight line plunge the Bobcat quarterback then threw one into the end zone, which was blocked by Snow of Utah and caught by Roth of Montana. The Utes then pushed across the third and final touchdown in the last quarter to make the score 19 to 7. Outstanding for Utah were Captain Schleckman, Cooper, and McDonough; for the Bobcats, Cosner, Kimberly, and "Chessy-Cat" Roth.

In the second conference game of the season the Bobcats surprised sports fans by holding the favored Utah Aggies to a six to six tie. It was the Bobcats game from start to finish, as they completely outplayed their rivals. After leading for nearly the entire game, the Bobcats fumbled away their chances to victory and let the Utah Aggies pull a tie out of the ashes of what appeared to be a certain defeat.

The Bobcats scored in the second quarter when Little returned a punt to the Aggie 26-yard line, and, after a series of line plunges, went over from the 6-yard line. The Utah score came in the fourth quarter when Fullback Poole recovered a fumble deep in the Bobcat territory. After several plays Magnussen scored from the 3-yard line on a wide end run. The Bobcats were forced to accept a tie only because of penalties. The Cats' strong defense stopped practically every Utah Aggie offensive attempt. Outstanding performers of the day were Little and Cosner in the Bobcat backfield and Norris and Kimberley in the line. For the Utah Aggies, Magnussen and Wayment were outstanding.

In a strictly offensive game, Greeley proved to be stronger, and came out on top in the final count. The Bobcats scored first when Nick Yovetich ran through right guard for a touchdown. Greeley came back strong in the second period to push over two touchdowns as a result of Cromer's powerful running. The second half kept the audience in a frenzy, as first one team scored and then the other. Greeley started the touchdown parade as Rehoweldt intercepted Cosner's pass to return it to the MSC 10-yard line. The Cats were penalized to the one, and from there Cromer went over. It was the Cats turn to score when Cosner threw a long pass to Holloway, who went over untouched. Greeley repeated this feat when Cromer passed to Rehoweldt for a total of 78 yards gained and a touchdown. The score at this point was 27 to 13, as the third quarter ended. The fourth quarter brought two Bobcat touchdowns by Gustafson to bring the count to 27 to 26. At this point Greeley's hero, Cromer, scored his fourth touchdown of the day to end all hopes of a Bobcat victory, as the game ended with Greeley in possession of the ball. The outstanding player of the game was Cromer, the Greeley fullback, who overshadowed all other efforts.

IDAHO SOUTHERN GAME

IDAHO SOUTHERN BRANCH 7; MONTANA STATE 25

The first Bobcat victory of the season, at the expense of Idaho Southern Branch, was played under flood lights at Bozeman. The Bobcat football machine seemed to be in high gear for the first time of the season as they played heads-up ball throughout. They took advantage of all opportunities as they recovered fumbles and intercepted passes. Only once did they fail to score when the opportunity was given. The Cats scored in each of the first quarters to monopolize all first half points. The third quarter brought on a Cat relapse, and the Bengals pushed over their only touchdown of the evening. Coming back in the fourth quarter with more power than ever before displayed, the Cats pushed the Bengals down the field to score two touchdowns in rapid succession. In a game that was featured by team play there were no outstanding performers.

MONTANA MINES 2; MONTANA STATE 33

The Bobcats closed their home season with an easy victory over the Orediggers from Butte. Coach Jack Croft used the second string during the first half and they proved their worth when Gates, sub-quarterback, passed to Krevic for the first touchdown. Coach Croft came back in the third quarter with his first squad, who put the game on ice with two rapid touchdowns. The first of these two came when Cosner passed to Little in the end zone, and in the second the line merely shoved the lighter and badly battered Orediggers out of the way for Cosner to go over for the points from the twelve-yard line. The fourth period saw Ernie Douglas, diminutive left halfback, race 26 yards for the fourth and final touchdown of the day. The game lacked the snap and fire that had characterized other Bobcat games on the home field.

The touchdown marathon of the season was played in the Capital City with the Saints on the defensive during the entire game. Never did they threaten as the heavier and stronger Bobcats ran madly down the field. Coach Croft used the entire squad in the game. The Bobcat line tore large holes in the Saints' defense to allow the fleet backs to turn the game into one continuous march up the field. The Saints put up a valiant stand but were rapidly weakened by the continued battering of their heavier and more experienced opponents. The Cats outgained their opponents some 300 yards during the game but this was largely due to the extra reserve power and greater experience. Nearly every back on the Bobcat team scored at least one touchdown. Coach Croft substituted freely to give the reserves added experience.

In the last game of the season the Bobcats took a 19 to 0 beating from Brigham Young University at Provo. The score does not indicate the battle that was displayed by a plucky band of Bobcat warriors who were determined to gain at least one conference victory. They played the powerful Cougars on even terms during the first half and only due to the lack of equal reserve strength did they allow the famed Cougar offensive to run away for three touchdowns in the last half. The first two scores came as a result of passes from all-conference Roberts to the brilliant pass receiver, Soffe. The final Cougar touchdown came in the fourth quarter when Charley Roberts' wide end runs netted 77 yards, and the final touchdown. Due to fine defensive playing, giant Max Kimberley, Bobcat tackle, was the outstanding individual of the day. Cosner also showed up well for the Bobcats. Roberts and Soffe were the downfall of the Bobcats as their famed passing attack finally got under full swing in the last half of the game.

On the opening of the fall quarter a small but eager band of freshmen reported to John Breedon, to begin their college football careers. The boys worked hard all fall as night after night they played martyr to the battering charges of the varsity squad. To these men should go a great deal of the credit for the development of a successful Bobcat team. The 1938 Montanan wishes to extend a great deal of praise to these courageous and persistent warriors.

The opening game of the abbreviated season was against the Polytechnic. On Gatton Field under the newly installed floodlights, the current edition of the Bobkittens showed great potentialities, as they defeated the Poly 19 to 6 with May, Murphy, and McGeever outstanding. On the following weekend they entertained the Cubs from Montana U in the little Big Game of the year. After the first two plays the game turned out to be a closely fought struggle but in those first two plays the Cubs made the only score of the game on a recovered fumble to win 6-0. The Kittens closed their season with a return game with the Billings Poly in which they repeated their former victory in a more decisive manner by winning 25-0.

BASKETBALL

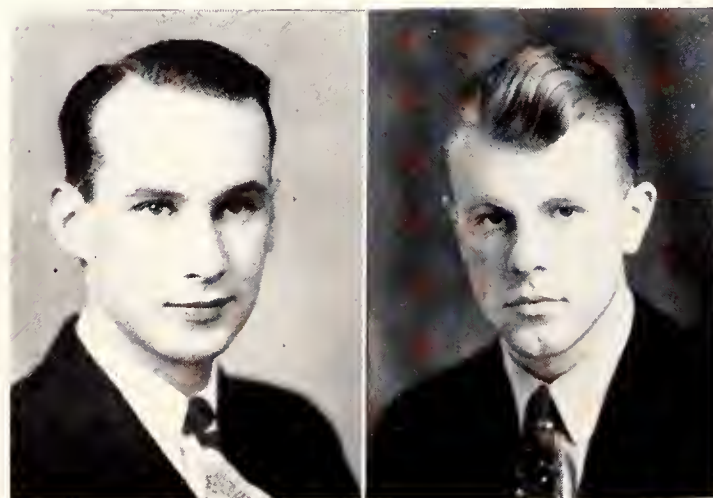

JOHN "BRICK" BREEDEN

Montana State College has always maintained a high standard in basketball. Periodically, we have produced truly great teams, this being first evidenced by the Golden Bobcats of 1927, 1928, and 1929, who were widely acclaimed by the sports world. After a period during which no great records were made, we have again approached that same supremacy in the basketball world. In 1937 the Bobcats assumed command of the Rocky Mountain Conference by defeating Denver University in the play-off. This year they retained that distinction by duplicating their conference victory.

The Bobcats can boast of a very successful season's record, losing only five games out of twenty-seven, two of which were lost to the World's Champions of 1937, the Denver Safeways.

The boys who were responsible for this two-time conference championship entered Montana State in 1934 and after two years of development, climaxed their careers with a return to the form of their famous forerunners in Montana State's basketball history, the Golden Bobcats. Thus, this year Coach Breeden loses those men who have formed the nucleus of his team. A new cycle is starting in which Coach John Breeden will have to rebuild a new era of Bobcat supremacy. We feel sure that he will be as successful in the future as he has been in the past. Good luck, John!

1937-38 BASKETBALL SEASON

The Bobcats opened the season lacking three members of the R. M. C. Champs of the last season: Taylor, Doyra, and Vavich. Coach John Breeden built his team around the two all-conference men of last year, Eddie Exum and Bill Ogle. The team developed rapidly and in their first game of the season against the National Champs, Denver Safeways, gave a fine performance in holding the All-Americans to a 2 and a 6 point victory in the series. Montana opened their conference season with a southern trip which included a series with Western State and Colorado College. The team then welcomed Gonzaga University by smashing the Bulldogs in two listless games. Conference games monopolized the next two weekends as Western State and Greeley State successively met defeat at the hands of the mighty Bobcats. Then came that catastrophic weekend at Missoula in which the Cats went down in two heartbreaking defeats. In the Colorado Mines series at Bozeman the Bobcats took two easy victories to clinch a second conference title without a loss. Eddie Exum, the basket-bombing baritone, set a new high scoring record by tallying 228 points in ten conference games for an average of 22.8 points per game.

The high-flying Grizzlies then journeyed to Bozeman to wipe the Bobcats completely off the basketball map for Montana, but were surprised to see the crowd prepared as the Cats took an easy victory the opening evening by a score of 65 to 49. On the next evening the Cats won the most exciting game of the season by a score of 64 to 60 only after an overtime period was played. After redeeming themselves from their first Grizzly defeats, the Cats were entered in the National A. A. U. tournament at Denver. Due to the victorious record of the Cats they were the seeded college team. They opened against Arkansas College and won a fast game 59 to 46. In the next game with the Teachers from New Mexico Normal the Cats won 54 to 45. This put them up against the second tallest college team in the United States, the Warrensburg Teachers, who had recently won the National Intercollegiate tournament at Kansas City. This resulted in a Bobcat defeat, 43 to 25. The Bobcats were rated the most popular team in the tournament due to their colorful wide-open style of play. Thus ended one of Montana State's most successful seasons. When the all-conference selections were released, Eddie Exum and Bill Ogle appeared for the second consecutive time on the first team. Don Cosner was also placed on the first team. Dick Little was named second all-conference forward and Jody Corbin third all-conference guard. Much credit should be given to Tuffy Feldman for his unquenchable fighting spirit, and the sportsmanship which he displayed all season. Eddie Exum, Bill Ogle, Jody Corbin, Tuffy Feldman, and Russel Wills have played their last game for Montana State and to them we give our best wishes and appreciation.

At the opening of the 1938 basketball season Coach Breeden found himself with a very promising crop of freshman hoopmen with whom he hopes to carry on the basketball supremacy of Montana State.

Coach Breeden innovated a new system by allowing the freshman team a schedule of its own. Due to the fact that it was a new idea, the schedule was restricted to four games, all of which they won easily, later entering the independent tournament at Belgrade which they won.

It is through the efforts of the men who turn out for the freshman team that the following strong varsity teams are built. These men work hard through long practices and with very little chance of recognition for their efforts. However it is only with the experience that they gain in such a manner and also the idea that they learn to play well as a team that such practices are rated worthwhile. We truly feel that the freshman team was successful this year and it is the beginning of another good basketball era at Montana State College—Who knows?—Maybe they're the making of another Golden Bobcat team.

After a long, arduous basketball season Coach Breeden took up the task of building the 1938 track team. Due to the bad weather and lack of facilities to train indoors the track men find it difficult to reach the peak of their condition. Taking these factors into consideration, Coach Breeden has done remarkably well with his team. The University will find it tougher than usual to win this season.

This year he is planning to take five or six men to the Rocky Mountain Intercollegiate meet. We feel sure that these men will make a commendable showing for Montana State.

The University maintained their supremacy in the Montana Intercollegiate track circles by again winning the State Intercollegiate Meet at Missoula. Montana State, studded with a few individual stars, but lacking the all around strength of the Grizzlies put up a game battle but were easily defeated, 87½ points to 47½ points.

Montana State showed well in the sprints, as Bill White gave the outstanding performance of the meet by winning both the 100-yard dash and the 220-yard dash for the second straight year. White blazed to victory in the 100 in 10.1 seconds, and in the 220 he finished his work for the day in 21.7 seconds.

Russell Wills also repeated with a great performance as he set a new state record in the shot put, easily tossing the iron ball 44 feet $\frac{3}{4}$ inches to outclass all other weight men. Reams and Bruce placed second in the discus and the high jump respectively, while Zupan garnered seven points for the team by winning places in the javelin, the discus and the shot put. Coach Breeden decided to send his two outstanding men, White and Wills, to the Rocky Mountain Track Meet at Fort Collins, Colorado. Although they did not win many points at the meet these men ably represented Montana State. White placed third in the 220-yard dash and fifth in the 100-yard dash and Wills garnered third place in the shot put.

MINOR SPORTS COACH

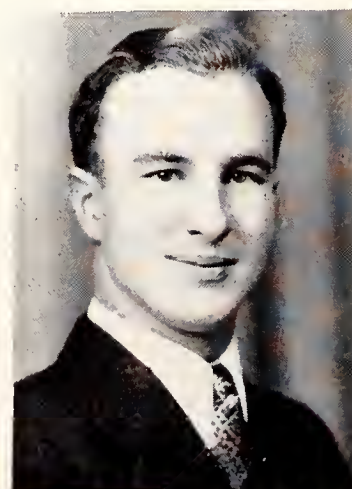

Minor sports are assuming an ever greater position in the sports curriculum of Montana State. Lack of facilities, lengthy schedules, and lack of student interest have limited the further development of these sports. We feel sure that minor sports will progress as far as these limiting factors will allow.

In the annual sports meet which was held in Missoula, the Bobcats were second-best scoring $49\frac{1}{2}$ points as the University took the meet with $61\frac{1}{2}$ points.

This phase of Montana State's intercollegiate competition has received little of the mention that it deserves. Too much credit cannot be given to these boys who wholeheartedly supported Montana State.

The minor sports program is handled by Pat Dolan and Harry Ellis. Earl Geyer was student manager, being in charge of the intramural program, which he handled efficiently.

The Grizzlies again turned the tables on the Bobcats as they won from the wrestling team by a score of $12\frac{1}{2}$ points to $10\frac{1}{2}$ points. In a meet that featured only one fall, Balheiser, 126 lbs. and Steese, 145 lbs., lost decisions to the University grapplers. Konsmo, 118 lbs., and Tokerud, 165 lbs., won decisions for the grunt and groan artists from Bozeman. In the 155 lb. class Wirak, Bobcat wrestler, was held to a draw by his Grizzly opponent, while in the 175 lb. class Allen of the College lost to the University heavyweight by a fall.

BOXING

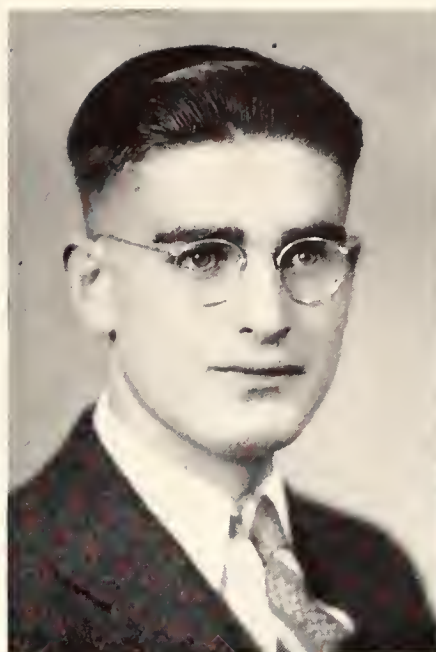

In the boxing division the Bobcats and the Grizzlies fought to a dead heat by the score of 6 to 6. The team of Lillis, Shinn, Schwartz, and Holloway were unable to continue the new victory policy started last year by the Bobcat boxing team. In the 126 lb. class Lillis, Frosh member of the team lost a decision in his first intercollegiate start. Shirley Shinn, continued his fine record of last year by winning an easy decision in his match. Schwartz also repeated last year's victory by taking the state 165 lb. crown from the University for another season. In the heavyweight class Bill Holloway also ran a good race with the University's prize slugger but lost the decision by a small margin.

SWIMMING

By winning the deciding relays, which ordinarily do not count as team points, the University took a very close and hard fought victory in the swimming meet by a score of 43 to 33.

John Van Winkle, one of the Frosh stars of the swimming team, set a new state record in the 100 yard back stroke as he paddled himself to a well earned victory, in the time of 1:16.4. The only other first place was taken by Frisbee, who maintained the freshman standard set by Van Winkle as he won the diving event. Roberts, a member of last year's team, was second in two events. Other individuals placing were Bruce and Hurdle, with a second and third in the breaststroke.

Golf and Tennis---1937

FITCH

Again, true to the early tradition, the weatherman at Bozeman did not see fit to give the boys a chance to get in shape so that they could really show their best results in the state contests at Missoula. Tennis and golf is played whenever the weather so permits but in Bozeman Jupe Pluvius went on a rampage last spring. Never-the-less, the Bobcats did not do so bad.

For the second consecutive year Chester Fitch and Milton Chauner represented Montana State in tennis at the state intercollegiate meet at Missoula. In a hotly contested contest the boys from Bozeman were finally conquered by the superior trained lads from Missoula.

Sam Barer and Clyde Rushing last spring represented Montana State College in golf at the intercollegiate meet held in Missoula in connection with the track meet and tennis matches. They showed well but the champion of the year before was too much again and neither man placed.

The Bobcat Battalion boasts one of the most colorful bands in the Northwest. The band is the most essential element of any R. O. T. C. display, and Montana State College is fortunate in having this excellent band as part of the military organization. Band men drill with the regular infantry units during most of the fall quarter. Then they begin their rehearsals in the gymnasium tanbark hall. These rehearsals are held till the weather warms in the spring, at which time the band takes up its outdoor marching practice. By the time the military reviews begin, the band is in shape to "Pass in Review" as the whole battalion swings into line. Parades for College visitors and the general public are held at Mother's Day, High School Week, Memorial Day, the Tactical Inspection, and Army Day. For each of these, the band supplies the color and the rhythm which make it an unforgettable spectacle.

HONORARIES

JEAN VAN SICE
President

Each year, at the annual senior assembly, the new members of Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, are announced. Mortar Board is a service organization whose chief aims are the maintenance of clean campus politics and the preservation of tradition. The outstanding senior women who comprise the group devote their attention to the affairs of the college woman and her position in the campus scheme. The traditional Mortar Board Dance held during the fall quarter is the coed's best chance for expression. It is "ladies choice" and "ladies treat" . . . the one opportunity for both the fellows and the girls to "get even."

The phases of college life that make the most lasting impression probably are the traditions that a school maintains. Traditions have a definite and worthwhile place at Montana State College. Septemviri is an organization of seven senior men, chosen by the college faculty for their achievement. It is their duty to preserve the college traditions. The Hello Walk, the Senior Bench, All-Honors' Assembly, Freshman Caps, Fang Paddles and a number of other time-honored traditions are guarded for the succeeding classes. At an annual assembly Septemviri reviews the traditions of the school for the benefit of the student body, and announces renovations and repairs.

LES BOUFFONS

President

CARROLL O'ROURKE

Founded in the year 1901, Les Bouffons is the oldest honorary organization at Montana State College. Men selected during the spring quarter of their junior year for their social qualities and campus prominence, are put through a rigorous initiation before joining the ranks of this old social organization. Les Bouffons sponsors an annual formal dance at which the all-school queen, chosen by the entire student body, is presented. The new pledges are also chosen at this dance.

In 1897, at the University of Maine, there was founded an honorary organization for the recognition of scholarship in colleges of a technical as well as general curriculum. A local chapter of this fraternity, Phi Kappa Phi, was established at Montana State College in 1920. Students who rate scholastically in the upper one-eighth of the senior classes of the various departments, as well as certain graduate students and faculty members, are chosen for membership. Each year Phi Kappa Phi holds a banquet in honor of its new initiates. Names of the members are given a permanent place on the Phi Kappa Phi plaque in Main Hall.

ALPHA ZETA

President
DONALD LUEBBE

A professional honorary organization to stimulate and foster interest in agricultural problems, Alpha Zeta chooses its members from the upper two-fifths of the class. Each year a trophy is presented to the outstanding Freshman major in agriculture. Members are kept in contact with the nation's outstanding economists, research experts, and agricultural leaders. Alpha Zeta works in cooperation with the Ag Club in putting on the Little International each year, one of the outstanding events of the campus.

In 1926 there was installed one of the most distinguished and worthwhile honorary organizations yet to grace our campus. Tau Beta Pi, with its purpose of fostering high scholastic attainment among engineering students, chooses only those from the upper one-fourth of the senior class and the highest one-eighth of the junior class. Although the scholastic requirement is high, the society believes that character is a much more important requisite for membership. Tau Beta Pi is the power behind the Engineer's Ball given each spring quarter—a simple and unassuming party which is one of the high spots on our social calendar.

One of the newest campus organizations, Saberettes, is composed of the girls who are, or have been, sponsors of military units. Military sponsors attend all R. O. T. C. parades, and stand with the reviewing group, as the companies pass in review. The club was formed a year ago, and, since its founding, has been host to the R. O. T. C. officers and staff members at numerous luncheons and teas.

Scabbard and Blade is a national honorary organization open to advanced students of the R. O. T. C. course. Each year, Scabbard and Blade sponsors the Military Ball. It is at that colorful function that the staff and company sponsors are announced. Due to the enlarged membership in the Junior Officers Corps this year, fifteen pledges instead of the customary eight, were chosen.

President
CHARLOTTE BENSON

Alpha Lambda Delta is an honorary organization for Freshman women who maintain an average of ninety percent during the first one, two or three quarters of their freshman year. The serious purpose back of such an organization is to promote higher scholarship the first year with the hope that the percentage of retainment will be high during the next three years. The members sponsor teas in the Fireplace room of Herrick Hall by managing to study a little harder the next evening. It is interesting to note that a high grade average the freshman year will usually carry on through the senior year.

To become a member of Phi Eta Sigma, the Freshman Men's Honorary, it is necessary to maintain an average grade of ninety percent for the first quarter, or for the first three quarters. The purpose of the organization is the promotion of scholarship during the freshman year. Contrary to popular opinion the members are not a group of horn-spectacled stooges, but a fine bunch of fellows. Phi Eta Sigma shares a banquet with Alpha Lambda Delta; the affair terminating in a Dutch Treat show.

Spurs is an honorary Sophomore women's service organization. It is their purpose to promote school spirit and enthusiasm. Members are chosen from the freshman class on the basis of scholarship and leadership—then this choice is announced at the Women's Day assembly in the spring. The Spurs usher at basketball games, take charge of assemblies, handle crowds during High School Week, and work diligently throughout the year for no other reward than the satisfaction of being helpful. The 1938 Montana pays tribute to their fine spirit.

With the blue and gold knight's visor as emblem, Fangs is the M. S. C. chapter of Intercollegiate Knights, an organization to boost school activities. Members are selected from the Freshman class and that selection is announced during the spring quarter. Their biggest jobs are herding the lost Freshmen around during the first few weeks of fall quarter, paging, ushering, serving, and general service duties around the school. Each year they sponsor an annual dance at which they pick their "Spur of the Moment." The tasks of the Fangs are varied and difficult but they do their jobs willingly—and the students and faculty do appreciate the helpfulness.

Delta Phi Delta is an honorary organization for art and architectural students who have achieved a B average in art subjects and a C average in academic subjects. The organization sponsors the art exhibits which the students are privileged to attend. Every other year student work is sent to the National Convention. Delta Phi Delta also cooperates with the Art Club in the bazaar which is given each year during the latter part of the fall quarter. Its purpose is to combine in a group all the students who have similar professional interests in the work they are doing while they are in school.

The fact that the Montana State College chapter of Phi U maintains a thousand-dollar loan fund for Junior and Senior students in Home Economics, and that it founded and supports the Edith Franks library in Herrick Hall ably proves the usefulness and success of this organization.

It is a national honorary society open to the Junior and Senior women who are majoring in Home Economics and who have the finest professional interest in their work. They must be outstanding in character, scholarship, leadership, and personality.

Members of Phi U prepare and serve many banquets and dinners for the various campus groups as a means of earning money.

Alpha Chi Sigma was organized with the idea in mind of grouping together all the chemistry students who were really commercially interested in their field. The group is assisted in their work by professional contact with technical men who come to the college for short visits. They also sponsor speakers to give them a better idea of the possibilities in their line. Most of all, the members achieve a unity among themselves which enables them to attain greater knowledge through their own effort.

Average of at least B in secretarial subjects and C in academic work makes a Junior or Senior Secretarial student eligible for Lambda Phi Kappa. The organization seeks to promote interest in business fields and business ethics, and to create a friendly spirit among its members, through banquets, social meetings and a picnic or so in the spring. Lambda Phi Kappa is at present working on a method for making the Secretarial Building a little more attractive to its students.

An athletic honorary fraternity for Junior and Senior women, Spartanians chooses membership from those who have an eighty average, and who have earned either a Bobcat sweater or two awards and fifty points toward a sweater.

During the past year the organization has redecorated the women's lounge room in the gym, so the coeds no longer have to throw their coats in the corner while attending social functions. Similar projects have been mapped out for the future. This year the group held a semi-formal, ladies' choice dance at which "Tuffy" Feldman was chosen "King of the Hill."

For a number of years there has been an organization for non-fraternity students. During the last two years, however, this group has been increasingly active. Men's and women's cooperative boarding houses have been successfully operated this year. A lot of the credit for the success of these enterprises must go to the Independent's Club. The club also sponsors numerous dances, picnics and other social functions throughout the year. It is a worthy group which brings a certain fellowship among the students who are not affiliated with the regular social groups.

CLUBS

AG CLUB

President
OSWALD BROWNLEE

The "Ag" Club is one of the most active organizations on the campus, and is one that really does things for its members. Its membership is composed of all students enrolled in agriculture and the agricultural faculty.

The "Ag" Club takes great pride in its Little International which has become an annual affair, and also in sponsoring the F. F. A. organizations which are growing throughout the state. From what we hear of the dinner which was put on by the agricultural faculty, our Home Economics department has a close rival.

The Ag Ball is also under the sponsorship of this club, and the Harvest Queen crowned each year is always one of the loveliest of the campus.

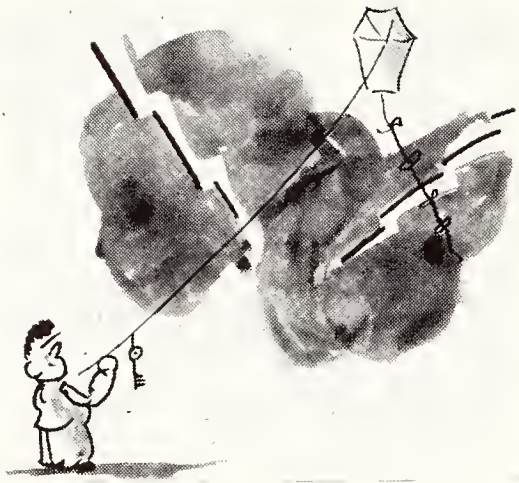

One of the most recent trends in Engineering education is the increased emphasis on pure science. Probably the most advanced study in pure science in the college is the work done by the physics department. The Engineering Physics club is composed of these searchers among the pure sciences who are majoring in physics. The club has regular meetings at which new developments in physics are discussed and experimental projects of the members are reported on.

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF ELECTRICAL ENGINEERS

President
GORDON ALLEN

The Montana State College chapter of the American Society of Electrical Engineers was installed in 1907, with its membership consisting of all students majoring in Electrical Engineering. This year's senior class seems to have taken up amateur radio operation as a side-line. Too bad more of us don't have short wave sets; no doubt we could pick up some choice bits of conversation around eleven o'clock in the evening.

The A. I. E. E. is very helpful in aiding the students in establishing contacts with engineering practice and in meeting men prominent in the field, and the boys can always be counted on to cooperate fully in any campus undertaking.

Our Chemical Engineering Society became affiliated with the national group in 1934 when the American Institute of Chemical Engineers was organized at Montana State College. The purposes of the organization are to broaden the students' viewpoints of chemical engineering, and to keep them in contact with the professional field. The society holds luncheon meetings twice a month at which men from other departments and also outside speakers are invited to talk to the students. Such an organization does a large task in bringing together interested students in their own professional field.

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF CIVIL ENGINEERS

President
ROY TOKERUD

The American Society of Civil Engineers, organized on this campus in 1908, instills in its members a knowledge of the principles upon which the profession is based. The weekly meetings of the society give the students an insight into the important engineering problems. The members report on current civil engineering projects and on new trends in the profession. They compete each year in a national bridge design competition. They also sponsor outside speakers who present subjects of professional interest.

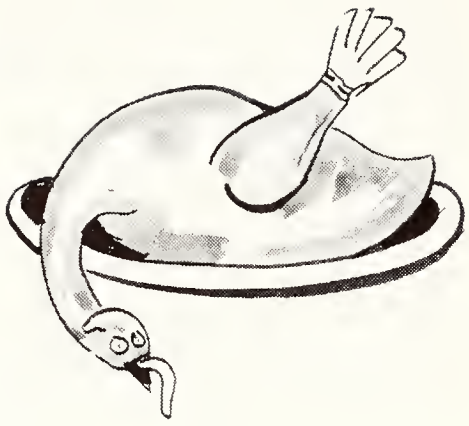

The student branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers was established at Montana State College in 1929. The society is closely affiliated with the national organization, and each year sends one or more members to the Northwest convention. It's nice to be a senior in this department, and the skiing season worked in nicely this year with the Seattle convention. We hear that the inspection trips are quite enjoyable too.

Each year the organization sponsors a contest to find the best paper on an engineering subject; the prize is one hundred and fifty dollars. The seniors of the organization contact representatives of well-known concerns, and get professional help in other ways.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

President
BETTY WATSON

One of the first organizations at Montana State, the Home Economics Club, was organized in 1895. Membership includes all students registered in Home Economics. Business and social meetings are held at regular intervals to develop a professional attitude in the members toward home economics, and to strengthen bonds of friendship among them. Summer projects done by the students prove worthwhile and beneficial to the college as well as to the students.

Each year the club sends a delegate to the American Home Economics Association to bring back to the group a broader outlook on the problems of home economics in all its fields.

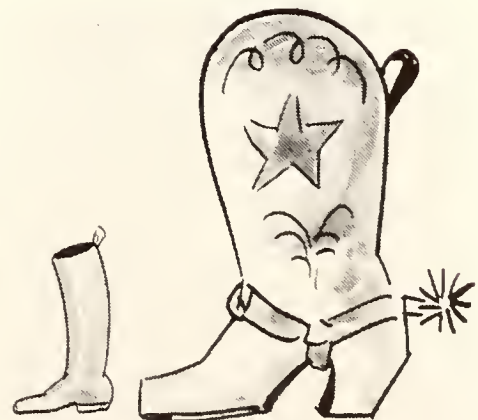

A few years ago some curious person set about to discover how many of the college students were sons and daughters of former M. S. C. students. A surprisingly large group of these students was discovered. They formed the original B. O. O. T. club. The name means Branch Off the Old Tree club. Now these chips off the old blocks have quite a sizeable organization which increases in number every year. This organization has the purpose of uniting the students who, through the influence of their parents, have had an interest in Montana State College for a great many years.

In 1919 the members of the Architectural Department organized a club with the hope of bringing closer together men of mutual interests. It has proved inspiring and helpful to all members throughout the years.

Members exhibit many interesting projects, drawings, and sketches for the benefit of the interested students of Montana State College, as well as putting on an exceptionally fine show for visitors during High School Week.

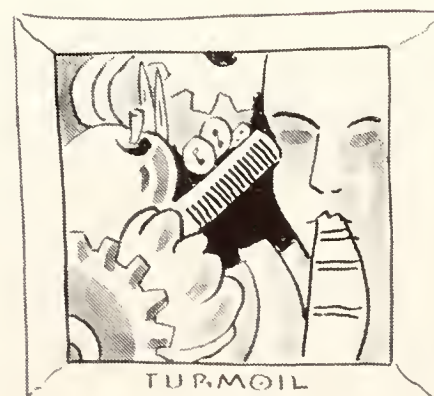

Twenty-six years ago the Art Club was organized to foster friendliness and cooperation among art students. Members arrange for interesting lectures by authorities in art fields, and sponsor the Art Bazaar, put on before each Christmas with lots of Oriental art and linen for sale. With the proceeds from this sale the club maintains a circulating art library and a membership in the Print Collectors' Society, which enables them to bring before the campus lovely exhibits of art work by nationally known artists.

College men and women who are interested in religious thought may join the Lutheran Students League. This organization has regular meetings at which panel discussions on philosophy and religion are held. The group also sponsors a number of social functions during the year and has an active part in the furthering of religious thought on the campus.

Any Catholic student of Montana State College is eligible to become a member of the Newman Club. This club fosters a spirit of fellowship among Catholic students. It sponsors numerous breakfasts, picnics and more serious meetings. The Newman Club also holds an annual all-school dance. Such an organization groups together a large number of similar interested students with the purpose of furthering religious thought.

APPRECIATION

An important and necessary part of a yearbook is its advertising section. This year a new idea for yearbook advertising has been introduced and the Montanan staff believes that in it will be found pictorial interest that has been lost in the advertising sections of previous annuals. Also while looking through this part of the book remember that the firms represented are boosters for our college. Notice them—patronize them and they will appreciate your business.

Acknowledgments

The time has come when the end is in sight—another Montanan goes to press. Putting out such a book is not a one-man job and before finishing the last small bit we owe a vote of thanks to a great many people. We cannot put all their names on this list but we are grateful, too, to the ones not mentioned here.

The managing editor, Dave Playboy Cochran, has a special bit of blarney due him. He did every sort of odd job, besides putting up the snapshot sections and managing the picture taking. Al Grantham, associate editor, worked diligently and his experience will stand in good stead in his editor's job for next year. The heavy responsibility of writing copy was well handled by Jean Van Sice.

The secretaries, Ruth Undem and Louise Farrell, deserve praise for their willingness in getting out letters at any time. Merrill Miller as athletic manager did a fine job of plugging for the Bobcats and their endeavors.

Another minute should be spent in praising Jack O'Conner, our accountant; Vivian Cowan, activities editor, who found out how irresponsible Seniors can be in turning in activity lists; and last of all, Jim Harrison, Bill Pattison and George Peterson, who spent hours on the telephone calling people to have their pictures taken. We have given our photographer, Don Smith, his bit—see page 112—Chet Fitch took a lot of fine snaps for the advertising section.

We also say thanks to Bill Taylor of the Great Falls Tribune, Fred Fredell of Buckbee Mears, Bertil Linfield of Linfield Picture Takers, and Schlechten of Schlechten Snapshot Studio, for their professional help.

Last of all we give thanks that the book is finally done—we hope you like it.

CARROLL O'ROURKE, Editor.
JOHN MacLEOD, Business Manager.

EDUCATION

ACCOUNTING—A highly paid profession for young men. With the state and national governments requiring that accurate records be kept, the opportunities for accountants in public and private positions are rapidly increasing. Advanced professional training in accounting is provided in minimum time at the Butte Business College.

SECRETARIAL—A Secretarial position is an ideal vocation for young women. Regular hours, vacations with pay, congenial associates and interesting work are assured from the start. Contact with executives bring promotion to those who show unusual ability.
